Greetings to the Graduates

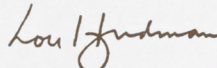

As we go through life, our progress is marked by special moments when we turn corners and new horizons open out before us. This convocation of scholars celebrates the happy observance of such an important turning point in your lives.

The ceremony is steeped in customs that have been passed down to us over the centuries. It is sedate, colourful, traditional, and meaningful. We hope you will enjoy the experience and will participate in the goodwill that permeates a day to be remembered.

By conferring its degrees, the University confirms that you have successfully fulfilled a rigorous course of study and have earned the right to enter into the collegiality of educated women and men. Be proud of what you have done, and be grateful for what the University has done for you.

Understand that the University of Alberta is not just the campus which you know so well. It is everything that our graduates of yesterday, today, and tomorrow accomplish to make our world a better place to live in. Today you join a worldwide community of alumni, more than a hundred thousand strong, whose support and interest is vital to the enhancement of the quality and the value of the degrees which you receive today. Keep in touch, and never forget the University that nurtured the mind you use every day. You entered to grow in wisdom. You leave the better to serve your community and yourselves.

Welcome and Congratulations.

Louis D Hyndman
Chancellor

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge. The faculty's task is facilitated by their colleagues in the academic staff, the Faculty Service Officers, the Administrative Professional Officers and the Librarians, and the University's dedicated support staff.

The faculty, numbering some 1,530, is responsible for creating programs of study, for teaching, and for evaluating the learning of the student body, both undergraduate and graduate. In addition, faculty members are responsible for the scholarly reputation of the University by preserving and sharing knowledge and by pursuing new ideas and knowledge through their research.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies, recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. Your achievement deserves praise. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. We would remind you of the advice given to graduands by Honorary Degree Recipient Dr Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

I am delighted to join your families and friends in congratulating you on the successful completion of your studies. You have reached this important milestone through a great deal of effort and hard work. You can be proud of your accomplishments.

Graduates of the University of Alberta, you have two supreme advantages. One is that you live in Canada. The second is that you are graduating from this fine institution. Today, you will leave with a credential that opens new doors and exciting opportunities. You also take with you the memory of having attended a university that in the conduct of its own affairs provides some striking lessons in how to succeed in today's world.

For many of you, convocation may mark the end of your formal program of studies. I sincerely hope though, that you will continue to pursue learning throughout your lives.

On behalf of Premier Klein and the Government of Alberta, I wish you all success and good fortune in the future. I am also pleased to offer congratulations to the University and to Mrs Lois Hole on the occasion of her installation as sixteenth Chancellor.

Sincerely,

Clint Dunford, Minister
Advanced Education and Career Development
Government of Alberta

Honorary Degree Recipient

Mr John Thomas Ferguson, chair, chief executive officer and founder of Princeton Developments Ltd, is a well respected member of the Edmonton and western Canadian business communities.

Born and raised in Edmonton, Mr Ferguson graduated from the University of Alberta in 1964 with a Bachelor of Commerce degree. He articulated for his chartered accountant designation with (then) Price Waterhouse and Co. In 1975, after six years with Numac Oil and Gas Ltd of Edmonton, where he served as Vice President and Treasurer, he founded Princeton Developments Ltd. It has grown to be a major player in Canadian commercial real estate development and a world leader in cold weather climate property development.

Highly respected in the business world, Mr Ferguson holds a number of other corporate directorships including Royal Bank of Canada, Suncor Inc, TransAlta Utilities, Barbican Properties Inc, and Bellanca Developments Ltd.

More recently, Mr Ferguson became chair of Research Technology Management Inc (RTM). Launched in September of 1997, RTM is a 100 percent owned University of Alberta company. Its mandate is to profitably commercialize University developed technologies by forming companies intended to have a global impact. Mr Ferguson was instrumental in the creation of RTM which helps to move technology from the University of Alberta to the marketplace by providing professional and entrepreneurial management, marketing expertise and early-stage seed money.

In 1995 Mr Ferguson was elected a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta.

Mr Ferguson also serves as a senior member of the Conference Board Inc of New York, as a member of PRIDE Canada (Parent Resources Institute for Drug Education) and as a member of the Business Advisory Council at the University of Alberta.

As Chairman of the Board of Governors at the University of Alberta from 1994 to 1997, Mr Ferguson provided outstanding leadership and direction for the institution.

The University Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr John Ferguson:

Bruno Engler's A Mountain Life, Stories and Photographs. Edited by RW Sandford. Canmore, Alpine Club of Canada, 1996.

This volume is one of 36 copies signed by both author and editor and containing three original photographic prints hand-printed by Engler. Engler is the most famous and celebrated of modern Banff mountain guides and a pioneer of mountain photography. This sumptuous book is a lively recounting of his most colorful true tales, capturing his voice as accurately as possible. A celebration of Engler's 80th birthday in 1995, the book is filled with fascinating anecdotes of Rocky Mountain history, and lavishly illustrated by his superb photographs. Bound in full goatskin by Courtland Benson, this is a remarkable example of western Canadian bookmaking.

University of Alberta 90th Anniversary

Builders of Alberta Award Recipient

The Salvation Army

The Salvation Army first came to Alberta (then the Northwest Territories) in 1887 when its Toronto leadership decided to follow the new national railway westward to Calgary and there open a division. In 1893 Captain Kady and Lieutenant Scott held their first services in the old MacDougall Methodist Church in Edmonton (now located in Fort Edmonton). Twelve years later, the two young women, and others who had joined in their fight, began the Army's outreach social work.

The Salvation Army's early evangelization in Alberta's two main centres was successful. In both cities the parades and concerts quickly gained the acceptance of the local communities. In Edmonton, for example, Frank Oliver's newspaper, the Bulletin, assisted the Army by covering its activities quite closely. By the time Alberta became a province, the Salvation Army was well established as an integral part of Alberta's social and religious life. When the Army's founder, William Booth, died in Britain in 1912, memorial services were well attended in both Edmonton and Calgary.

The coming of World War I saw the Army gain its nickname "Sally Ann" for its efforts to relieve the suffering of soldiers in the trenches of the western front. In Alberta, the Salvation Army provided moral, spiritual, and material support for volunteers preparing to fight in the Great War. In World War II, the Army did still more for soldiers, setting up offices at armed forces barracks and training grounds, and continuing its missions to the front. Veterans today still speak of the relief the Sally Ann provided them in the depths of wartime misery.

The welfare of Canada's soldiers, however, was only one concern of the Salvation Army. During the Depression Years, even in the face of bankruptcy, massive social dislocation, and an aging membership, the Salvation Army continued to provide meals to the needy, set up hostels, and provide shelter to transient and homeless people. The Army assisted many in finding jobs (scarce though they were), and continued to train people without skills so they would have a better chance of finding work.

After World War II, Alberta's Salvation Army continued to expand its missionary activities in Alberta. While continuing to operate its other programs, the Salvation Army started up homes for single mothers, seniors' homes, including the Sunset Lodge for seniors requiring 24-hour care, addictions recovery centres, a suicide prevention program, disaster services, programs to assist prisoners, Agapé Manor (a residence for terminally ill patients), and their most visible program, the Christmas Red Shield Campaign. All the while, the Army has continued its musical mission.

Since its small beginnings in Calgary 111 years ago, the Salvation Army has firmly established itself as a primary institution of assistance for all sorts of needy people, and has helped people help themselves for over a century. Throughout Alberta's history as a province, the Salvation Army has been a major presence making the lives of the least advantaged of Alberta better. By creating, expanding and refocusing their programs to remain responsive to the needs of their clients, they have provided services to Albertans that, in many cases, would otherwise not have been available.

By building a "safety-net" support system for Albertans in need, the Salvation Army has enabled citizens to contribute to the building of their territories and province for over 11 decades.

The University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Awards

In celebration of our 90th Anniversary, the University of Alberta created the Builders of Alberta Awards as a way of celebrating and recognizing those groups which have made a significant contribution to Alberta's growth since 1908. Contributions to the social, economic, educational, cultural, business, health and professional dimensions of Alberta's growth were considered, and only families, foundations, institutions, businesses and other groups were eligible.

Eight recipients were chosen for this one-time-only award. Six awards will be given at Spring Convocation and two at Fall Convocation.

The list of candidates for degrees and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Dr Maxwell Leo Howell of Brisbane, Australia is an internationally recognized pioneer, scholar and administrator in the discipline of physical education and sport.

Dr Howell represented Australia in 30 international rugby union matches and 5 test matches (at 20, he was the youngest athlete selected to play for the Wallabies). He then devoted himself full-time to academia and completed a BA, MA and EdD at the University of California (Berkeley) and went on to complete a second doctorate, in sport history, at the University of Stellenbosch (South Africa).

It has been stated that the academic systemization of physical education in Canada was begun by Dr Howell, first at the University of British Columbia in 1954 where he was instrumental in the creation of a masters degree program in physical education — the first in the Commonwealth — and then at the U of A in 1966 where his efforts resulted in the creation of the first PhD program in physical education in the Commonwealth. Dr Howell then travelled the world presenting scholarly papers, recruiting first-class faculty and persuading outstanding students to attend the University of Alberta. His enthusiastic love of knowledge and his deep, abiding belief in the values that accrue through sport and physical education helped enormously in his recruiting efforts. The program which Dr Howell pioneered at the U of A has come to be recognized throughout the world as one of the best available, and many of its graduates have gone on to be world leaders of this field.

Dr Howell is a highly acclaimed scholar in his own right. He has published nearly 50 books and over 300 articles, and he has instrumentally influenced the establishment of a new curricula of studies in this academic discipline. His research centred on his interest in history, and he pioneered the study of sport history and physical education. He is a world authority in the area. Though now retired, he continues to initiate research and to influence and challenge students and colleagues alike.

Dr Howell is a pioneer in the development of Canadian graduate programs in physical education, an internationally acclaimed scholar, a leader of Canada's physical fitness movement, and a man instrumental in reshaping the world of physical education through his foresight, wisdom, energy, indomitable spirit and his personal influence on others.

The University Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Maxwell Howell:

CG Salzmann's Gymnastics for Youth; or, A Practical Guide to Healthful and Amusing Exercise for the Use of School. Freely translated from the German. Philadelphia, William Duane, 1802.

This is the earliest manual on sport printed in North America, and is a little known work of great importance, containing detailed chapters on the value and utility of gymnastics and exercise. Its charming copper-engraved illustrations depict boys jumping, pole-vaulting, wrestling, swimming, and trundling a hoop. This volume is a significant addition to the library's historical collection on physical education.

CKUA Radio Network

In 1927, the Department of Extension took a bold step in increasing the U of A's ability to reach throughout the province from its Edmonton base. Using a 500-watt transmitter built on the field directly to the south of Pembina Hall on the University of Alberta campus, Canada's first public broadcaster was born on November 21, 1927. When it doubled its broadcasting power to 1000 watts in 1939, it was able to reach most Albertans.

Soon after, due to the advantages of having a public radio station which was not managed by the federal government, the Social Credit government in the 1930s provided direct grants to CKUA to continue its operation. Eventually the Government took over full support of the station and set up its educational mandate.

Seventy years later, CKUA remains a unique and exciting public broadcaster with fresh and innovative programming. CKUA continues to develop its roots across Alberta. The Network's unique contribution to Canadian broadcasting is built in part on its massive music library, collected over seven decades, and also on the remarkable knowledge of its experienced staff. CKUA announcers program their own shows and have an exhaustive knowledge of the music they feature. Some examples of the Alberta-based talent CKUA has helped to promote by venturing beyond the narrow confines of most radio playlists include Robert Goulet, Joni Mitchell, Amos Garrett, Bill Bourne, Violet Archer, Kashtin, Shauna Rolston, Lester Quitau, Oscar Lopez, Juno Award winners kd lang, PJ Perry and Jann Arden, and Order of Canada member Tommy Banks (now a member of the CKUA board of directors). Several prominent broadcasters also began their careers at CKUA.

In 1994, the provincial government decided to privatize CKUA and set up a non-profit foundation to run the station. The station would be funded by commercials, corporate underwriting of programs, and listener donations. CKUA's most recent campaigns have demonstrated the station's popularity in Alberta and around the world, using satellite and RealAudio® internet broadcasting, which may prove as revolutionizing as radio was 70 years ago when CKUA was founded.

Now, after its seventieth anniversary in 1997, CKUA AM-FM is capable of reaching 85 percent of Albertans through satellite delivery with 17 transmitters throughout the province.

CKUA has not abandoned its commitment to education since privatization, and it still provides lifelong learning opportunities for Albertans by working with postsecondary partners. Truly a unique institution, CKUA public radio is Alberta's radio station. The CKUA Radio Network has helped to build Alberta by bringing Albertans together in countless ways since its humble beginning on the U of A campus in 1927.

The University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Awards

In celebration of our 90th Anniversary, the University of Alberta created the Builders of Alberta Awards as a way of celebrating and recognizing those groups which have made a significant contribution to Alberta's growth since 1908. Contributions to the social, economic, educational, cultural, business, health and professional dimensions of Alberta's growth were considered, and only families, foundations, institutions, businesses and other groups were eligible.

Eight recipients were chosen for this one-time-only award. Six awards will be given at Spring Convocation and two at Fall Convocation.

Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically according to the establishment date of each faculty and degree. The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Mr Raymond J Nelson of Lloydminster is acknowledged as an accomplished businessman, and as a Canadian committed to the wellbeing of his community and its citizens.

Mr Nelson was born and educated in Frontier, Saskatchewan. After serving his country for four and one-half years during World War II, he returned to Saskatchewan and moved to Lloydminster in 1946. In 1949 Mr Nelson, and his late brother Austin, established the Nelson Lumber Yard. Together they pioneered the concept of prefabricated packaged homes at affordable prices. Today, Nelson Lumber Company Ltd, which Mr Nelson served as president until 1995, employs 400 people and has annual sales exceeding 85 million dollars. The company designs and produces modern pre-engineered homes throughout western Canada and exports them to the United States, Japan and Europe.

Throughout his active business career, Raymond Nelson has been deeply involved in community affairs at the local, provincial and national level. He currently serves on the Board of the Alberta

Treasury Branches, the Board of Regents of Athol Murray College of Notre Dame, and the Board of the National Foundation for Family Research and Education. He was a founding member of the Alberta Energy Co Ltd and the Lloydminster Foundation. He formerly served as a director of Alberta Power, as a board member of the Economic Council of Canada, and as a director and chair of the Lloydminster Municipal Hospital Board.

Mr Nelson's commitment in practising and promoting the highest standards of excellence and integrity is a unique hallmark of his business and his life.

The University Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Raymond J Nelson:

Pauline Johnson's Shadow River, Selected and Illustrated Poems, New Westminster, BC, Pie Tree Press, 1997.

Johnson (1861–1913), born on an Ontario reserve to a Mohawk father and English mother, became one of the most popular of Canadian poets and was thought of as the first to develop an authentic Native voice in poetry of the 1890s. She is now seen as a more ambiguous transcultural writer, though her poems still bring delight with their vivid evocation of Aboriginal life amid forests and murmuring streams. The illustrator remembers first encountering her poems in fourth grade and remaining enthralled.

This volume is No. 21 of 40 copies, and is printed on hand-made paper. An exceptional example of fine Canadian book design, it is illustrated in glowing colors and hand-printed by Jim Rimmer and his typography students at University College of the Fraser Valley.

University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Award Recipient

Alberta Association of Agricultural Societies and the Rural Education and Development Association

Agricultural industry has been a key element of Alberta's society since its earliest settlement days. The Agricultural Societies Ordinance was founded in 1886 with the objective of encouraging improvements in agriculture, horticulture, and other "useful arts."

Agricultural Societies in Alberta have served many economic, social, and cultural functions since their founding. Economically, they helped to educate early homesteaders in more efficient agricultural techniques and introduced new farming technologies, as well as offering a marketplace for stock and produce. Perhaps more importantly, Agricultural Societies and exhibitions provided a basis for community development, enabling opportunities for recreation and social life, as well as providing a focal point for entertainment and community formation. The Alberta Association of Agricultural Societies exists to this day, uniting such large organizations as Edmonton Northlands and the Calgary Stampede with smaller communities' organizations across the province. Currently, there are 292 operating Agricultural Societies in Alberta, and they operate under the Agricultural Societies Act (1988).

An important outgrowth of the agricultural communities in Alberta in the early twentieth century was the development of the cooperative movement including the United Farmers of Alberta and the Alberta Wheat Pool. These organizations were born out of the difficulties of the era before and during World War I: the UFA formed from a merger of two earlier organizations in 1909 to act as an advocate on behalf of farmers in Alberta. In 1913, the Alberta Farmers Cooperative Elevator Company started. During the war, the Canadian government set up a wheat marketing board, the precursor to today's Canadian Wheat Board. After the removal of the marketing board in 1919, the price of wheat collapsed, prompting farmers to look for ways to fend off the insecurity of global swings in the wheat trade. This was one of the reasons that the United Farmers of Alberta, running candidates in the provincial election, swept to victory.

In 1923, the Alberta Wheat Pool was the first of the prairie pools to start, and was operating at a profit within one year by avoiding the grain exchanges and selling directly. With the coming of the Depression in 1929, the Pools suffered disastrously, and were reorganized to become a grain-handling company rather than a marketer. This change, though painful to the Pool's founders, ensured its survival. At its peak, the UFA had 38,000 family memberships.

World War II and the subsequent reinstatement of the Canadian Wheat Board solidified the Pool's position as a grain handler only. Nonetheless, it and other grain cooperatives across the prairies helped develop an efficient method of getting grains to port, which included the purchase of elevators in port cities like Vancouver and Port Arthur (later Thunder Bay). These pools have helped keep the control of grain sales in the hands of farmers rather than corporations.

By the 1950s, the era of ongoing, closely organized political activity for the cooperatives was over. Cooperatives instead began to focus on maintaining communities in an increasingly complex society by providing human and financial resources to the changing agricultural infrastructure. In 1959, REDA (Rural Education and Development Association) was formed with its chief aim being to provide a high quality of life for rural Albertans. In a sense, REDA took over many functions of the early agricultural societies, sponsoring leadership training courses and youth programs. More recently, REDA has initiated some curriculum development, public participation workshops on numerous issues of concern to rural communities, and conferences on the food industry in Alberta and western Canada.

Agricultural cooperatives have taken many forms over the course of Alberta's history, but they have continually provided a unique means by which rural communities have grown and prospered economically, educationally, socially, and culturally.

The University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Awards

In celebration of our 90th Anniversary, the University of Alberta created the Builders of Alberta Awards as a way of celebrating and recognizing those groups which have made a significant contribution to Alberta's growth since 1908. Contributions to the social, economic, educational, cultural, business, health and professional dimensions of Alberta's growth were considered, and only families, foundations, institutions, businesses and other groups were eligible.

Eight recipients were chosen for this one-time-only award. Six awards will be given at Spring Convocation and two at Fall Convocation.

Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, diplomas and certificates appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically according to the establishment date of each faculty and degree. The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Professor Roger Woodward of Sydney, Australia is an internationally renowned musician. "One of the top international musicians of our time," "magnificent," and "a genius" have all been used to describe Professor Woodward. Artur Rubinstein, with whom he studied piano, and Sir Yehudi Menuhin have acclaimed his work.

The founder of the Sydney International Piano Competition, the London Digest Music Festival, and the Sydney Spring International Festival of New Music and Visual Arts, Professor Woodward has appeared at more than 50 international festivals in 42 countries. He is sought after as one of the finest artists of his generation for his dedication and rare insight into the Classical and Romantic repertoire.

Professor Woodward is an eclectic musician, distinguished by his work with many of the world's finest artists such as Pierre Boulez, Lorin Maazel, Sir Charles Mackerras, Kurt Masur, Zubin Mehta and Claudio Abbado. His mastery of 20th century music has kept him at the cutting edge of the international avant-garde and he has collaborated with composers and performers such as Jean Barraqué, Cathy Berberian, Luciano Berio, Sir Harrison Birtwistle, Toru Takemitsu and Iannis Xenakis. Professor Woodward has a wide repertoire of chamber music and regularly performs with the world's leading ensembles.

Professor Woodward has recorded over 40 discs, many of which received gold awards. Represented among his extensive discography is every period of music ranging from Baroque (Bach) through the Classical (Mozart, Beethoven) and Romantic (Schubert, Schumann, Chopin), to the 20th Century (Debussy, Shostakovich, Rachmaninov) and Avant-garde (Feldman, Radulescu, Xenakis). He has performed many world premières by numerous composers, has been featured in many videos and has performed extensively with the five London Orchestras, beginning nine seasons at the Royal Albert Hall for BBC London Proms.

Roger Woodward is also heralded for his willingness to share his talent and knowledge with up-and-coming musicians. Indeed, he has performed masterclasses in twenty-three countries and the festivals he has established allow other artists to launch or further their careers. Among his honours are the Order of the British Empire for services to Arts and the community, Commander Cross of the Polish Order of Merit for services to human rights, and Companion of the Order of Australia for services to music.

One of the world's finest artists, the artistic director of three major music festivals, visiting professor in music performance at the University of Sydney, a composer, conductor, recording artist and performer at piano recitals around the world, Professor Roger Woodward is also an inspiration to and advocate for others trying to realize their dreams.

The University Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Professor Roger Woodward:

Franz Liszt's Nineteenth Hungarian Rhapsody for Piano Solo (1885), Budapest, Editio Musica, 1985.

This exquisite coloured edition is a facsimile of Liszt's final, spectacularly difficult, piano rhapsody. The original manuscript—which this edition recreates—was completed the year before his death. The work is remarkable to music scholars because rather than employing folk themes, Liszt drew upon music by his old friend Kornel Abranyi.

One of the most astonishing and original virtuoso pianists of all time, Liszt's combination of nationalism and romanticism anticipated a later internationalism in modern music. This facsimile is No. 19 of a limited edition bearing a special binding and an embossed bronze cameo of the composer on the front cover. It is an invaluable document for piano students and scholars.

University of Alberta 90th Anniversary

Builders of Alberta Award Recipient

Royal Canadian Mounted Police

Founded in 1873 as the North West Mounted Police (NWMP), a force intended to patrol the vast western expanse, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) have played an instrumental role in the development of Alberta. From their headquarters at Fort Dufferin, Manitoba, the NWMP were the first representatives of Canadian law and order in the west. Treaties with the natives, the quick disruption of the whiskey trade, and a reputation for fair treatment by a responsible police force were their legacy. The Canadian government, hoping to avoid violence and bloodshed, owed much to the early efforts of the Mounted Police.

By 1875, the NWMP had established outposts in what is now Alberta at Fort Edmonton, Fort Macleod, Fort Whoop-up, Fort Saskatchewan and Fort Calgary — bases from which to build friendly relationships with the native populations and regulate the fur trade. As the only visible representatives of the Canadian government, the NWMP provided an example which would facilitate the signing of treaties with the First Nations peoples and prevented lawlessness over a vast and sparsely settled territory. It was this presence that also enabled the West to be settled in a relatively peaceful manner. The officers were responsible for policing the travelling labour of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and later preserving law and order along its routes. The completion of the Railway truly opened up the West, and a series of NWMP outposts were established throughout the territory under the supervision of Commissioner L W Herchmer.

In 1904, the NWMP was renamed the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in recognition of outstanding service. One year later, when the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed, the responsibility of policing was transferred from the federal to the new provincial governments. The Mounted Police had served the area well, however, and Alberta contracted the force's services from the federal government. Growing populations and a changing focus from trading to settlement pushed the Mounted Police to change with the times. The early twentieth century saw the development of a detective section, and the general adoption of more modern police methods. In 1917, however, the role of the Mounted Police was curtailed in Alberta as the province developed its own provincial police force. The Royal Northwest Mounted Police maintained a role limited to enforcing federal law across the province.

The force absorbed the Dominion Police and was renamed the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) in 1920. In 1932, Alberta returned the policing of its jurisdictions to the Mounted Police and thereafter its role was gradually enhanced to include an enforcement role in smuggling, customs, drug enforcement, conservation, and national security concerns. Municipalities also began contracting their policing needs to the RCMP. Virtually all aspects of law and order in Alberta fell to the RCMP at some level. The policing methods of the force gradually evolved to include fingerprint classification and forensic science.

Today, the RCMP still serves Albertans on three levels: federal, provincial, and municipal. It also is responsible for much of the policing duties on Aboriginal Reserves. Changing technology has led the RCMP to adopt new computerized systems in order to respond as efficiently as possible to the needs of the public. In September 1974, the first female recruits became members of the RCMP, and recruiting strategies today are committed to reflecting the multicultural composition of Alberta and the nation. Despite these new initiatives, the Force has come full circle in certain ways. The personal contact that proved such an effective way of fostering trust and cooperation with the early settlers has re-emerged in the RCMP's present philosophy which stresses community policing. It has been this ability to adapt to the policing demands of Albertans that has made the RCMP such a valuable member of provincial society.

Over more than 120 years, from the early days of settlement to today's complex modern world, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have provided the framework for law and order to Alberta and have ensured a safe environment for its citizens to grow, prosper and build.

The University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Awards

In celebration of our 90th Anniversary, the University of Alberta created the Builders of Alberta Awards as a way of celebrating and recognizing those groups which have made a significant contribution to Alberta's growth since 1908. Contributions to the social, economic, educational, cultural, business, health and professional dimensions of Alberta's growth were considered, and only families, foundations, institutions, businesses and other groups were eligible.

Eight recipients were chosen for this one-time-only award. Six awards will be given at Spring Convocation and two at Fall Convocation.

Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically, according to the establishment date of each faculty and degree with graduate degrees (doctorates, then masters) presented first. The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented before other graduates of the same faculty.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Dr Joseph Boyd Martin, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, is an internationally recognized leader in the field of neurological sciences.

Born and raised in Bassano, Alberta, Dr Martin received his medical degree from the University of Alberta in 1962. After completing an internship at the University of Alberta and a residency at Case Western Reserve in Cleveland, Ohio, he completed a PhD in the Department of Anatomy at the University of Rochester.

Dr Martin was appointed as an assistant professor at McGill University in 1970. By 1976 he was professor, and in 1977 chair of the Department of Neurology and Neurosurgery at McGill. In 1978 he was appointed as the Bullard Professor of Neurology, Harvard Medical School, and the Chief of Neurological Services at the Massachusetts General Hospital, the premier academic physician post in Neurology in North America. In 1989 he became Dean of the School of Medicine at the University of California in San Francisco. From 1993 to 1997 he was the Chancellor of the University of San Francisco and engineered major mergers between the academic centres in San Francisco, including Stanford and the University of California in San Francisco. In 1997 he returned to Harvard Medical School as dean and holder of the Caroline Shields Walker Professorship in Neurobiology and Clinical Neurosciences.

Dr Martin is recognized internationally for his leadership in the field of neurobiology and has been author or co-author of more than 300 scientific papers, most of them relating to neuroendocrinology. He has served on the editorial board of some of the most prestigious medical journals including the New England Journal of Medicine and Science. He has been one of the leading scientists in studying neuropeptides and their roles in neurophysiology and neurological diseases. In 1980 he established the National Institute of Health-sponsored Huntington Disease Centre Without Walls. Early work in the Centre led to a breakthrough in identifying a genetic marker near the gene for Huntington's disease; this culminated recently in the identification of the gene for the disorder.

Dr Joseph Martin is an exceptional Albertan who has succeeded in becoming one of the outstanding medical leaders in North America.

Augustin Thoner's Observationum Medicinalium, haud Trivialium, Libri Quatuor, Ulm, Germany; J Gerlin, 1649.

This is the first edition of a rare landmark book on neurology by the director of the medical college at Ulm, Germany. It contains hundreds of case histories of the classic neurological topics of the period: head pains, epilepsy, and mental diseases such as melancholy and mania. The book was successful and soon appeared in a second edition; it is a valuable edition to the Library's medical collection.

University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Award Recipient

PCL Constructors Inc

Poole Construction was founded in Saskatchewan in 1906 by Ernest Poole, a builder of farm houses and rural schools. By 1925, continued growth prompted the company to begin operations in Alberta. Poole Construction expanded into a wide range of construction enterprises, and this continued growth led to the relocation of the corporate office to Edmonton in 1932. World War II provided numerous opportunities to Poole Construction, which handled many contracts from both the Canadian and American militaries. After the War, Ernest Poole's sons, John and George, took over the company. It grew steadily into a North American construction giant, known for its high standards and progressive labour practices. In 1977, the family decided to withdraw from active business, and Poole Construction was sold to the employees. Today it is known as PCL Constructors Inc, a company with diverse international interests in the construction industry, and head offices in Edmonton and Denver. Despite being one of the largest general contractors in Canada, completing approximately 600 projects and securing over $2 billion in business annually, it is still 100 percent employee owned.

In a very literal sense, PCL has always been a prominent "builder" of Alberta. Indeed, a large proportion of Alberta's major building projects have been undertaken by the company. The roads, dams, bridges, power and water treatment plants, office and apartment buildings, hotels, shopping centres, and sport and leisure complexes constructed by PCL have shaped Alberta's cities and serviced the province's public. Noteworthy projects included the Sundance and Wabamun thermal generating plants, the Edmonton and Calgary International Airports, several buildings at the Universities of Alberta, Calgary, and Lethbridge, as well as the highly acclaimed Francis Winspear Centre for Music in Edmonton.

Possessed with a strong sense of community, the Poole family have made many contributions to Alberta in addition to those in the corporate realm. Ernest Poole was a well known patron and art collector, focusing in particular on the works of Canadian artists and landscape paintings. John and George Poole also shared their father's love of art, and have built strong Canadian art collections of their own. John Poole has established himself as a benefactor to many Alberta charities and institutions, including the Provincial Museums and Archives, Citadel Theatre, the United Way, and the Salvation Army. The families of John and George Poole, along with that of former PCL Chief Operating Officer Robert Stollery, were instrumental in the revitalization of the Edmonton Community Foundation in 1989. Each provided the organization with $5 million, establishing a capital base used to encourage philanthropy and fund charitable activities in Edmonton. Education has also been targeted as a philanthropic interest for the Pooles: both the Ernest E and Gertrude Poole Scholarship in Management for Engineers and the University of Alberta Poole Eminent Lecture Series were endowed by the family.

At the corporate and community levels, the Poole family and PCL Constructors Inc have maintained a record of excellent citizenship. Together they have been responsible for constructing a large proportion of Alberta's infrastructure. PCL continues that legacy today as an international company with an Edmonton head office; its building projects symbolize the province's prosperity. The Pooles have also served as leading philanthropists, providing significant encouragement for Alberta's charities and public institutions. PCL and the Poole family have made immeasurable contributions to the economic and social wellbeing of Alberta—builders in every sense.

The University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Awards

In celebration of our 90th Anniversary, the University of Alberta created the Builders of Alberta Awards as a way of celebrating and recognizing those groups which have made a significant contribution to Alberta's growth since 1908. Contributions to the social, economic, educational, cultural, business, health and professional dimensions of Alberta's growth were considered, and only families, foundations, institutions, businesses and other groups were eligible.

Eight recipients were chosen for this one-time-only award. Six awards will be given at Spring Convocation and two at Fall Convocation.

A song of praise to Varsity
For the splendour of our mountains
Our prairies green and gold.

Thy legions march enrolled.
Our memories will live forever
Beloved University
We will fight for thee and cheer
And ever hold thine honor dear.
Our Alma Mater U of A.

The Royal Anthem

God save our gracious Queen!
Long live our noble Queen!
God save the Queen!
Send her victorious,

Rende son peuple heureux
Vive la reine!

Recession

Members of the audience are requested to remain at their seats until the Platform Party and the graduates have recessed.

Following the Convocation ceremony, light refreshments will be served on the First Balcony and Main Floor Foyers. The University and the Alumni Association cordially invite you to attend.

Those graduates who would like a photograph with Chancellor Hyndman may meet him in the west end of the Main Floor Foyer in front of the University display. The Chancellor will be available for approximately twenty minutes following the conclusion of the ceremony.

On 24 April 1998, the University of Alberta Senate elected well-known businesswoman, education advocate, and community supporter Lois E Hole as the 16th Chancellor of the University of Alberta, a position she will hold for four years.

Born and raised in Buchanan, Saskatchewan, Mrs Hole moved to Edmonton in her early teens and completed her secondary education at Strathcona Composite High School. In 1952 she and her husband Ted (BScAg '52) bought a mixed farm in St Albert which, by 1960, they had diversified into a vegetable and mixed garden business. In 1979 the farm was incorporated as Hole's Greenhouses & Gardens Ltd and their sons Bill (BScAg '78) and Jim (BScAg '79) joined the business full-time. It has since grown into one of the largest retail greenhouse operations in western Canada.

Mrs Hole has authored six gardening books (all Canadian bestsellers), contributes regularly to the Globe and Mail and the Edmonton Sun, and has just completed the Canadian portion of the 1999 Old Farmer's Almanac Gardening Companion. She appears regularly on the "Grapevine" segment of CBC TV's Canadian Gardener.

Since 1981, Mrs Hole has served as a school trustee for the St Albert School District #6. She previously served, for fourteen years, as a trustee and chair of the Sturgeon School Division and, for eleven years, as a member of the Athabasca University Governing Council. Mrs Hole is a director of the Farm Credit Corporation, and chair of the Edmonton Mayor's Luncheon for the Arts. She is also a board member of the Canadian Heritage Garden Foundation, the Children and Mental Health Association, and the Quality of Life Commission.

During the past five years, Mrs Hole has spoken to nearly 600 gardening groups and businesses across North America; audiences totalling nearly 100,000 people. In 1983, Mrs Hole was awarded an honorary doctorate from Athabasca University and in 1997 received a Distinguished Citizen Honorary Diploma in Business from Grant McEwan Community College. In 1995 she was named both Edmonton Business and Professional Woman of the Year and St Albert's Citizen of the Year.

The Chancellor is the titular head of the University, chairs all Senate meetings, serves as a member of the Board of Governors, represents the University at ceremonial occasions and presides over convocation to confer all degrees. The Chancellor is a volunteer and acts as a liaison between the University and the community.

Mrs Hole succeeds Louis D Hyndman, OC, QC, whose four-year term as Chancellor expires on 10 June 1998.

University of Alberta 90th Anniversary

Builders of Alberta Award Recipient

Eric Harvie Family, Devonian Group of Charitable Foundations and Glenbow Alberta Museum, Archives and Library

The Eric Harvie family have for decades dedicated much of their wealth to the greater public good. The family patriarch, Eric Lafferty Harvie, graduated with a degree in Law from the University of Alberta in 1915. Over the next several years he established himself as a prominent Calgary lawyer, rancher and oilman. His foresight led to the purchase of the mineral rights held by British Dominions Land Settlement Company in 1944, an investment which paid huge dividends when oil was discovered at Leduc and Redwater. With his wife, Dorothy Jane (née Southam), he chose to share his good fortune with Albertans generally, setting up several charitable foundations in order to distribute the capital benefits derived from the oil fields.

An avid collector, Eric Harvie established the Glenbow Foundation in 1954, donating his books, art, and cultural artifacts to the Foundation. With a mandate to acquire and preserve art, library material and archaeological resources focusing on western Canada and the Indians of southern Alberta, the Foundation's holdings continued to grow into one of the largest private collections in Canada. In 1966 Harvie donated the assets of the Foundation, along with 5 million dollars in operating capital, to the province. The province then created the Glenbow-Alberta Institute to oversee the collection. In 1976 the Glenbow Centre was built in downtown Calgary, allowing the expanding collection to be housed under one roof and exhibited to its best potential.

Today, the Glenbow enjoys the reputation of being the pre-eminent cultural institution for Northwestern North American history in Canada. It has also developed an impressive collection of international artifacts, bringing examples of distant cultures to Alberta. The Glenbow's Art Collection consists of over 24,000 objects, featuring the works of renowned artists such as Paul Kane, Charles Russell, Carl Rungius, and William Armstrong. The Library and Archives hold over 100,000 volumes, 1,250,000 photographs, and 3.5 shelf kilometers of manuscripts. The Glenbow has played a leading role in preserving and promoting the collective history of Alberta and Albertans. Their policies and projects have been implemented with the passion for culture and history that was instilled by its founder, Eric Harvie.

The Harvie family has also been involved in other philanthropic endeavours through the Harvie Foundation, which was founded in 1955 and reorganized with three others (the Riveredge, Devcan, and Candev Foundations) to become the Devonian Group of Charitable Foundations in 1973. The Foundation was the chief agent through which the Harvie fortune was distributed to charities nation-wide, though with a focus on Alberta. In all, over 88 million dollars have been distributed or committed by the Foundation.

Besides establishing the Devonian and Glenbow Foundations, the Harvies have supported many other charitable projects. Eric Harvie supported the Calgary Zoological Society and the Luxton Museum of native artifacts located in Banff, and was instrumental in the establishment of the Banff School for the Arts. His general commitment to the arts in Alberta — and in Canada generally — led to his involvement as a founding member of the Canada Council, the country's premier arts funding agency. Indeed, the Harvie family's dedication to community and cultural development have truly made them

"Builders of Alberta". This legacy is built upon by the Devonian Foundation and the Glenbow Museum, which together continue to make vast contributions to the province's social, economic and cultural wellbeing.

The University of Alberta 90th Anniversary Builders of Alberta Awards

In celebration of our 90th Anniversary, the University of Alberta created the Builders of Alberta Awards as a way of celebrating and recognizing those groups which have made a significant contribution to Alberta's growth since 1908. Contributions to the social, economic, educational, cultural, business, health and professional dimensions of Alberta's growth were considered, and only families, foundations, institutions, businesses and other groups were eligible.

Eight recipients were chosen for this one-time-only award. Six awards will be given at Spring Convocation and two at Fall Convocation.

The list of candidates for degrees appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically, according to the establishment date of each faculty and degree. The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The University Coat of Arms

On November 15, 1909, a motion by the faculty recommended to the Senate the adoption by the University of the provincial coat of arms, with the addition of an open book above the shield and the motto Lux et Lex; the words "University of Alberta" were to be attached as might seem fit. The present motto was substituted in January 1911 for the one originally proposed. In 1950 the representation of the coat of arms was altered to conform better to the principles of heraldic design but these arms were never actually registered.

In 1994 a new coat of arms incorporating a number of traditional symbols associated with the University or the Province, or with learning, was officially granted by the Canadian Heraldic Authority. In non-technical language, it consists of the following elements:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta (wheat fields, hills, rivers, and the Rocky Mountains) derived from the provincial coat of arms, and a book symbolizing learning.

Crest: a Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and a traditional symbol of wisdom.

Supporters: a pronghorn, taken from the provincial coat of arms, and a golden bear, long the University mascot, standing on a mound of wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera. ("Whatsoever things are true," Philippians 4:8)

The arms are copyrighted and may not be used without permission of the Board of Governors. The name of the University is similarly protected.

University Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

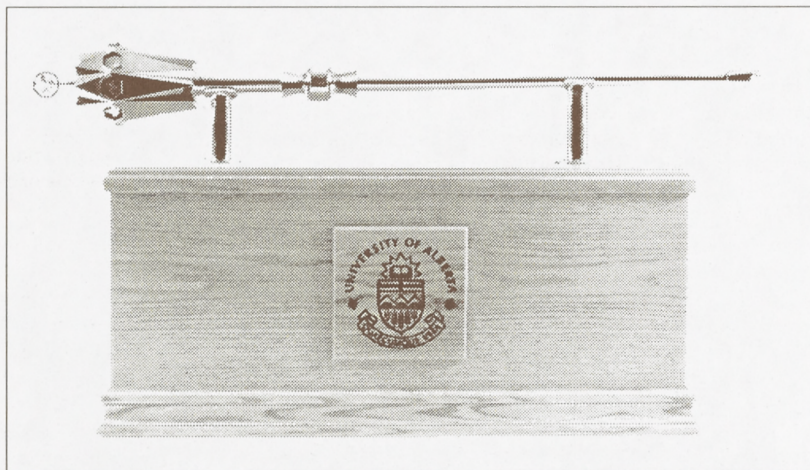

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 to 1970. It was presented by his son, Michael Galbraith, on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electroplate process was used to apply 24 karat gold to other parts of the Mace.

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive.

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power – but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

History of Convocation

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the fourteenth century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts.

The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is led by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colours the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." (The mortar board, the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today, evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" that was introduced in England in about 1490 and is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.) Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. The following page provides a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar and Student Awards.

Academic Dress

All undergraduate and master's degree gowns are the customary Cambridge shape, i.e., a gown of black material falling below the knee with full sleeves cut to the elbow and terminating in a point. Hoods are made in the Oxford pattern of spruce green material. The Bachelor's hood has a border three inches wide of the color distinctive of the Faculty as noted below. The Master's hood has a full lining of the color distinctive of the Faculty also noted below. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels which are worn forward and to the left.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctoral gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctoral hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws, Letters, and Science wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

If you can, please share this program with a companion. Then, if you do not take it home, please leave it (in good repair) on the table outside the doors as you exit the auditorium. This will help us ensure that someone else can use it on another day of Convocation, and subsequently conserve paper.

Thank you for your assistance.
